

VERNON SULLIVAN LOCATES HERE

Former Territorial Engineer of New Mexico to Make Home Here.

Vernon L. Sullivan, M. Eng., C. E., who was territorial engineer of New Mexico under Governor Hagerman, today and here is located in El Paso. He will maintain an office at Brownsville, Tex., where he will continue the management of the Imperial Irrigation company. To take this position he resigned as territorial engineer of New Mexico in 1911.

In addition to his work with the Imperial company, Mr. Sullivan has constructed several large irrigation systems. Two of them have been completed since war was declared in 1914. The Brownsville Water Improvement district No. 1 is located in El Paso and the El Paso Valley Irrigation system. Both of these projects have large storage reservoirs and are now doing a great deal in furnishing water during war times.

Mr. Sullivan has been very much interested in the water problem in the state of Texas. This reservoir will hold half a million acre feet of water and would control the entire flow of the river. The project is now being located just below the line in New Mexico. He has a son, a Washington, D. C. graduate of the University of Texas, who is now in the U. S. army and is now doing a great deal in furnishing water during war times.

He is now looking after the construction work for the Wad County Water Improvement district No. 2, which is constructing a new facility for the project. Mr. Sullivan, who has had large experience in irrigation, hydraulic engineering, and civil engineering, is now in the U. S. army and is now doing a great deal in furnishing water during war times.

TODAY'S AMUSEMENTS

ALHAMBRA—ETHEL CLAYTON.—Watching Ethel Clayton is coming to the Alhambra Sunday in an extraordinary new world picture. This thoroughly exciting production bears the title of "The Man Hunt" and is an unusual and very likable comedy. In fact, it is one of the most pleasing light comedies seen in a long time. Ethel Clayton's role in this picture will appeal to every motion picture fan in this city.

THE MAN HUNT.—This picture is certainly different. Betty Hammond is a very attractive girl without a doubt. Her fortune is so great that her father says she ought to marry some good man who will look after her and take care of her. She is once married to James O'Brien, her first husband, and decides to look him up. She finds that he is a very good man and she is very much pleased with him. She is now looking for a new husband and she is very much pleased with him.

SPECIAL WHEAT RULE FOR CAMPS

At Houston Meats Will Be Served Certain Hours on Special Days.

New wheat conservation rules have been issued by the federal food administrator at Washington, D. C., regarding the use of wheat flour and bread in isolated camps.

The regulations provide that those camps, railroad companies, contractors, mining, oil, fishing and logging camps, operating an eating house for the purpose of feeding employees, using more than three barrels of flour in baking operations, must have bakers' licenses.

It is difficult for the companies to make the reports required of licensed bakers, and the federal administrator suggests in lieu of the present plan that the state administrator, or the local administrator, get in touch with such camps and offer a substitute plan.

Rules in Government Camps.
The substitute plan provides that each camp be allowed six ounces per day. Where Victory bread is used, one-half of the weight of the Victory bread is deducted from the flour allowance. Supplies of flour and substitutes are to be purchased on a 30-day basis. All bakery products are to be made in accordance with the bakery regulations. There must be one wheatless meal a day, and stocks are to be limited to 30 days' supply.

In order to assist the local administrator in keeping track of the observance of these rules, the camps are required to deliver a report to the administrator weekly or monthly showing number of pounds of flour used, and the number of meals served.
